

SOCIAL SCIENCE (SOCIA)

SOCIA 1100

Introduction to Social Science

3 Credit Hours

This is an interdisciplinary course combining the perspectives of two or more of the social and behavioral sciences (anthropology, economics, geography, history, political science, psychology and sociology) on the central issues in social science studies. This course explores the relationship between the social and behavioral sciences being studied. It reviews the application of the scientific method, compares theory and concepts, and reviews the different perspectives of the discipline being studied. This course is broad in nature and scope. It provides the basis for further study in the various social and behavioral sciences. (3 lecture hours)

Course types: General Education: Social and Behavioral Sciences (A.A.S., A.G.S.)

Special Project

1-3 Credit Hours

Social science course integrates two or more disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences. Special project social science course covers topics not otherwise covered by general education and social behavioral sciences individual courses and other courses in the Catalog for the disciplines. These courses require direct experience and focused reflection in an in-depth study of a specific discipline topic and/or the critical analysis of contemporary issues in the discipline. They are targeted to self-selected students with an interest in the subject matter and involve active participation. The course delivery incorporates an experiential component of no less than 30 percent but not to exceed 70 percent (to be determined by the disciplines). This experiential component may include field studies, interdisciplinary learning, and/or the practical application of discipline-related concepts, theories, principles and methods with a specific focus. All courses require an orientation to deliver academic and experiential information (syllabus, academic requirements, field preparation, logistics, etc.)

Course types: General Education: Social and Behavioral Sciences (A.A.S., A.G.S.)
